Thieves Enter Old Quads

Two cases of breaking and entering and one of vandalism at the men's dormitories at Northwest State College over the weekend were reported to the Maryville Police department Monday afternoon.

Three doors and one window were broken, and a vacuum sweeper valued at approximately $40 was taken.

MSC Dean of Men Jack Lasley stated that at 1:30 a. m. Saturday the glass was broken out of a door leading into Cook Hall. Cost of repairing the door was not estimated.

Mrs. Faye Sherman's apartment in McCracken Hall was broken into by two boys. They broke into the building and damaged two doors, then fled, one going out the front door, and the other out the back door.

Entry was gained through the hall's west door by breaking a door glass and reaching in and unlocking the door. It has not been determined if anything was taken. No estimate has been made as to the amount of damage.

Ted Jamison reported that someone had broken into his apartment in Cauffield Hall over the weekend and had taken a green and white vacuum sweeper. A west window was broken to unlock the window and enter the room.

THE MARCH OF DIMES—Cheerleaders Marcie Severson, Linda Chastain, and Marge MacDonald, collect money for A total of $30.00 was collected.

St. Louis Newspapers Acquired by Library

Wells Library has acquired a truckload of bound St. Louis newspapers from the Missouri Historical Society according to Mr. James Johnson, librarian.

Included are the St. Louis Post-Dispatch from 1920 to 1942 and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat from 1870 until 1950.

The volumes will be stored in the basement of Perrin Hall until room is available in the library additions presently being built.

Mr. Johnson also announced that framed prints, now on display in the Student Union, could be checked out by college students. The students must live on campus and they can check the reproductions of famous paintings for a period of one semester.

According to Mr. Johnson, the prints represent part of the addition which the library is making to the permanent collection of loan prints. The prints are purchased periodically, mounted and framed, and then made available to the student body.

MSC Phys Ed Coeds Attend Gymnastic Meet

Seven women physical education majors of MSC and three faculty members attended a 1-day gymnastic workshop recently at the University of Missouri.

Demonstrations were held in the morning featuring the Southern Illinois University gymnastic team. In the afternoon a participation-practice session was held. Assisting were Ed Franz, Washington University, and Herb Vogel, coach of the Southern Illinois women's team.

Those attending from MSC were Sharon Thomas, Marion Smith, Rhodetta Jensen, Judy Bolon, Judi Anderson, Karenann Falk, and Elaine Buerkens.

They were accompanied by Miss Bonnie Magill, Mrs. Dorothy Walker and Miss Miriam Sheldon MSC instructors of physical education.

Cancer Film to Be Shown To College Women Thursday

The film "Breast Cancer—Problem of Early Diagnosis" will be shown Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium, sponsored by AWS.

The half-hour color movie emphasizes the need for early diagnosis and the proper techniques for examination for breast cancer. All and only MSC women are invited to see the film according to Judy Huit, AWS president.

With the Feb. 25 filing deadline rapidly approaching, more than the usual number of campus organizations are preparing to enter candidates in the Tower Queen contest.

Although some potential candidates may have declined to run because of the Missourian's erroneous mention of talent performances (talent will not be included in the judging.) groups ranging from the usual sororities to the SNEA are planning to submit candidates.

Date Changed

According to Tower editor, Ellen Grube, the date of the queen judging has been changed to Mar. 12 due to a conflict with the Miss Maryville Pageant. The judging will still be held in the auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Indications are that a record number of candidates will enter the contest under the rules set up by the coed organizations on campus and approved by the Student Senate. The present schedule will certainly eliminate a great deal of the campaigning usually evident at queen elections and will also eliminate a considerable amount of sleep for those hapless souls preparing the ballots for Friday's voting.

At press time (and subject to change) this is the schedule of events:

Feb. 25 Deadline for filing with the registrar.

Mar. 12 Judging in the auditorium at 8 p.m.

Mar. 13 All-student body election on three finalists from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the student lounge of Colden Hall.

Campus Radio Brings Music, News to Dorms

"This is KDLX, 560 on your dial, bringing you the latest hits and everything that's fit to be heard each evening from 5 to 12."

Have you heard? MSC has a campus radio station. It operates from the second floor of Colbert Hall. Reception wires have been strung over campus and KDLX can now be heard in all the dormitories.

The student station, run by a combination of MSC students, hopes to someday be on the same level as all other radio stations. At present, however, the main interest is in MSC. The news will be primarily local, and anyone wishing an announcement to be made can give it to the D.J.'s.

Anyone interested can become a D.J. if he meets with the approval of the management. They are as follows: Gary Mathews, station manager; Gary Ulrich, maintenance engineer; Carolee Smith, secretary.

Miss Karlene Hendrix Is 1964 Alpha Sweetheart

Miss Karlene Hendrix was crowned Alpha Sigma Alpha Sweetheart at the sorority's annual Sweetheart Dance, Saturday night.

Mrs. Luther Belcher, an alumnae of MSC's Phi Phi chapter of the sorority and wife of the college's business manager, crowned Miss Hendrix and presented a bouquet of flowers to her. Miss Hendrix is a senior elementary education major from Kansas City and is president of the chapter.

Two awards for service were made at the dance. The Elizabeth Bird Small Award, a national award for service to the campus, was made to Miss Barbara Combs, a senior from Clearmont. Miss Joyce Owens was the recipient of the Frost Fidelity Award on the basis of her service to the local chapter.

Held in the Blue Room of the MSC Student Union, the dance featured a "Cupid's Wonderland" theme. The room was decorated in silver and white and accented with red hearts. Entertainment was provided by the Alpha pledges who gave a "beat" version of the Three Little Bears. Miss Sharon Elwick introduced the skit.

Chaperons for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Schottel, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Ward Rounds. Chapter sponsor Miss Bonnie Magill, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Belcher also attended.

Student Union Offers Many Services

Why does MSC have a Student Union? Where did the "Union" idea originate? What is the past history of the college union? Many of these questions were answered in a recent interview with Bill Needles, director of the J. W. Jones Union.

Originally the Student Union was simply a small area of the Administration Building—located where the present art department is. And the "Union" wasn't a union at all, but a bookstore and a small snack bar where students could buy snacks and take them outside and eat. At that time there was no centralized College cafeteria; men students were fed in the old Cooper Hall and women students were fed in what is now the recreation room at Roberta Hall. In fact, at that time MSC didn't look like the college it is now—the Administration Building, Roberta Hall, the men's quadrangles, the women's gymnasium, Horace Mann and the Industrial Arts Building constituted Northwest Missouri State College. It wasn't until 1958 that most of the other campus buildings appeared.

In 1951 the east half of the present union was built; it consisted of the original Den, the east cafeteria, the lounge and the chapel. The new union provided a central cafeteria as well as larger facilities for the Bearcat Den, the Snack Bar, and the College Bookstore.

Only one-third of the present college unions had been constructed in 1952; MSC was among the number which popularized the idea of the "College Union."

The new Den and the rest of the cafeteria facilities were completed in 1960. The Blue-roo maddition on the third floor was finished in 1962 making the present J. W. Jones Union the complete student service it is today. The Board of Regents named the building the J. W. Jones Union as a result of the president's keen interest and enthusiasm for the functions and purposes of the college union.

The basic motive of union operation is not profit; it simply operates to support itself. The student employees and professional worker's salaries, operating and maintenance expenses and food costs come out of the union intake.

Costs at the Union have not increased for years—a fact in keeping with low board and room rates at MSC—and the Bearcat Den is one of the few remaining places where you can still get the traditional nickel cup of coffee.

MSC Coed Has Horse At School

A gypsy soul and a love for horses seems to describe Terri Furst, MSC freshman, who loves her horse Shorty so much she brought him to college with her.

"I guess I've always loved horses since I was able to walk and talk, but I'd never had one until three years ago," says Terri. And she goes on to explain about Shorty.

"I board him here in Maryville and ride by bicycle to the stables so I can ride him. I used to ride a lot, but because of tests I can't go as often now. Of course it costs to keep him here, but I enjoy him enough to make it worthwhile."

Shorty is an 11-year-old bay who hails from Texas and who has been used in rodeos as a cutting horse. Terri has shown him some in 4-H groups and at county fairs (he recently was named reserve grand champion at the St. Joseph County, Indiana 4-H fair).

Terri has been around more than Shorty, though, which accounts for her gypsy soul. She has lived in Illinois, Indiana, New York, California, and Missouri and has travelled in 23 of the 50 states, Canada and Mexico. She studied English riding at the "Tumbling-T Riding Academy" in California and advanced riding techniques under the direction of Ernest Tully, nationally known showman of Arabians, American Saddle-breds, and Tennessee Walkers. Terri has been out of high school for two years—part of that time has been spent in Mishawaka, Ill., giving riding lessons.

One sure thing about Terri and Shorty—they won't get homesick while they're in college.

Repair Work Goes On

While the students of MSC were vacationing over the Christmas holidays, work was being done for improvements on the MSC campus.

The maintenance crew hung the batting cage for practice hitting in Lamkin Gym, and a redecorating job was begun in Horace Mann. Workers from Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. began replacing doors. The New Den doors and the east doors of the Union have been replaced, and work is now being done to replace the doors on the Administration Building.

CBS on Aid to Parochial Schools

By Ted Jamison

Recent CBS-TV program discussed the pros and cons of federal aid to parochial schools. Spokesmen from nearly all of the major religious bodies in the United States along with such news commentators as Walter Lippman were given time to express their views on the program.

The program seemed somewhat slanted towards the pros of the issue. The view expressed was that parochial schools are an essential part of the school system, regardless of the fact that religious instruction is included along with the standard academic subjects. Since American schools are terribly overcrowded and understaffed now, the private and parochial schools are needed to handle part of the load. If there were no such schools, the situation would be much worse. That the parochial schools give a considerable number of children an education is sufficient reason for extension of federal aid. Lippman said that parochial schools should receive federal aid immediately with no governmental limitations. On the subject of religious dogma being included in textbooks, particularly Roman Catholic, a Church spokesman said that the practice was being altered and would someday be eliminated.

CBS missed the fundamental question of the issue. The chief danger of federal aid to religious sects is the establishment of a state religion. Although the proposed federal aid would ideally not aid any particular sect, one must realize that a majority of all parochial schools in the United States are Catholic. Any aid would necessarily favor that particular church.

one religion monopolizes on the funds.

If a church builds schools for its members and their children, it is their responsibility to maintain those schools. If the church expects to maintain control over the curriculum and over the religious instruction given at the school, then it must also expect the responsibility of financing the school. The church has the right to establish such schools and to teach whatever dogma it desires. It does not have the right to federal funds to support of teaching or such religious instruction, no matter what Walter Lippman and CBS say.

Pond Fills Mysteriously

Despite the exceptionally dry weather and no addition of water by the city, the college pond is filling up.

The pond was drained and cleaner out last summer, and a concrete ledge was poured around it to prevent the water from cutting away the banks. It was hoped that the pond would be refilled before ice skating season, but hopes were failing as the dry weather persisted.

Now, for some reason, the pond has filled to a useful level. The students may get some ice skating in yet. As Mr. Robert Seipel, buildings and grounds manager, says, "I can't quite understand it!"

The first amendment to the U. S. Constitution prohibits acts of Congress which would establish a state religion. The proposed aid program, while not an outright proclamation of a state religion, would give a considerable amount of financial support to one particular faith. Recent Supreme Court decisions, including the school prayer ban, indicates that the first amendment is still to be interpreted strictly, and that aid to church related schools is unconstitutional.

The present program of low-interest loans to private and church related college does not present the state-church danger, since the variety church colleges is wide and no

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

ALL THAT JAZZ

On Ballot Boxing

Last week we published a reader poll and invited all of you to let your opinion on Senate reapportionment be heard. We heard.

From about twenty conscientious students.

And from one paper cutter—wielding ballot box stuffer (123 times).

This is not going to be an angry tirade against those who would subvert the democratic institutions of our country or those who are soft on communism. We were, in fact, rather amused at the bungling efforts of our friend with the cast iron arm and the many colored pens and pencils to confuse our staff's attempt to get a "representative sampling." After getting only four responses on the first day, we began to suspect something fishy was afoot when we found 123 votes for plan No. 3 in a rather neat pile at the bottom of the ballot box. Actually the only malice we hold toward him is for mangling 123 of our beautiful newspapers.

If you really want to influence the Senate's actions, all 123 of you bring your paper cutters to the Senate meeting Thursday night on the second floor of the Student Union. You can be most helpful in cutting through the yards of red tape which sometimes tend to foul up the works. An when you have finished with it you can begin on the 2000 ballots left over from the first reapportionment election. (We understand that Mr. K. needs some confetti for his May Day celebration.) A word of encouragement: If you get there before 7 p.m. starting time, you you may find space on a table to place your paper cutter on.

The Senate has delayed making a decision on the reapportionment proposals until the opinions of the student body have been heard. (Even those of the paper cutter—wielding ballot box stuffers.) We would therefore entreat you, no, after your miserable showing on our poll, we command you to attend this Senate meeting.

Do You Want a Study Day?

The Northwest Missourian is co-operating with Blue Key national honor fraternity in taking a student opinion poll about a study day between regular classes and finals.

Last semester regular classes ended on Friday, instead of beginning finals the next day on Saturday, the administration set aside Saturday and Sunday as study days. No classes tests, or social events were held on these days to give the student body a rest and study break before the ordeal of finals. President Jones has announced that the policy will be continued this spring.

Blue Key would like to know your opinion on this issue so that they can present definite recommendation to the administration, either for the continuation or elimination of a study day. Please fill out the questionnaire and deposit it in the Student Union ballot box or in the Missourian office.

Dear Sir:

The primary purpose of a newspaper is to present the news, as it happens, in a clear and unbiased fashion. The purpose of a college newspaper should be the presentation of news and other items of interest to the student body. It should be an instrument of and for the student body. In this respect the Northwest Missourian fails miserably.

Certain assumptions shall be made at this point to clarify my position and, undoubtedly, the position of many others. If the rather boring news of the student government is removed and the pathetic coverage of sports is removed then the Northwest Missourian would become four blank pages.

In the past, the most controversial position taken by the newspaper might be concerned with the true color of an orange. It would appear to this student that the college rag is an instrument of and for the administration. In other words, the editor shall see that only items of boring content shall be printed and evidently the only stand he is allowed to take is the fact that Northwest Missourian shall be printed once a week.

If the student body were to be exposed to a fine college newspaper, then perhaps, they would realize what they are missing. Is our editor so hamstrung that he cannot take a stand on such items of universal importance as whether or not wheat should be sold to the Communist bloc countries or should we follow Goldwater's solution and send Marines into Cuba? No, the thinking of the Missourian shall remain restricted to local corn rows and the supreme importance of Dr. Zarba's new book "The Rise and Fall of the Bearcat Den."

What happened to one of journalism's foundations, the feature story? Is our campus full of faceless individuals whose only claim to fame is the fact that they are majors in the field of Beateology?

The writer realizes that it is a virtual impossibility to please everyone, however, any attempt to please even the majority would be greatly appreciated. Who gets the malt this week?

Rex Pettegrew to Attend Gov. Prayer Breakfast

Rex Pettegrew, Student Body Vice-president, will represent the college at the Governor's Prayer Breakfast to be held in Jefferson City, Feb. 27.

Reader's Digest reports that Charles Lindbergh is still a very good airman who, although often flies the fastest military jets, prefers to pilot a slow, small plane with an open cockpit.

Footnote to History

An interesting footnote to history is made by the Outsider's Newsletter published by Monocle magazine. The current issue says:

"The possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald's death will be called a suicide has not been ruled out. Observers recall the precedent established in the case of the U. S. agricultural agent who, although shot five times in the back with a bolt-action rifle, was ruled a suicide by the coroner, to the puzzlement of many Northerners, including the FBI. The explanation offered by Justice of the Peace Teddy Blue Conner, however, may well be applied by the judge to Ruby case. Conner said, "That feller was stickin' in his nose into Billy Sol's business, which means he was tryin' to get hisself killed."

CINEMA

An entertaining screen document, tracing the life and works of a single man during the period between two World Wars, can be found in Otto Preminger's "The Cardinal," which will open Friday at the Tivoli Theatre. The man is a young priest, ordained in 1917, who rises to the eminence of Prince of the Church. The story is told via a series of scenes which directly involve or affect the youth, and have their later repercussions on the maturing priest.

Based on the best-selling novel by Henry Morton Robinson, "The Cardinal" traces the disappointments, defeats and triumphs of Tom Tryon, in the title role. The film includes such personal matters as his self-doubting as to the strength of his calling; his struggle against the temptation of falling in love; his physical self-sacrificing.

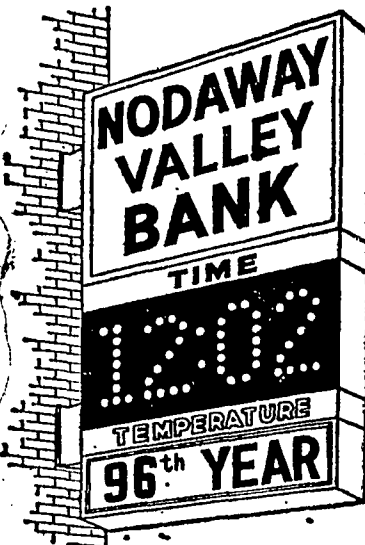

In dramatic terms, "The Cardinal" covers such situations as the young priest's desperate need for wisdom when his sister and a boy of Jewish faith fall in love and want to wed; his efforts to find and fight the racial and religious prejudices he knows exist in some parts of the country; his pleasure in the company of a sophisticated European beauty.

Production of "The Cardinal" took Preminger, his cast and crew to New England, to Vienna and Rome. The film, brilliantly photographed by three-time Academy Award winner Leon Shamroy, is eye-filling evidence of the care with which backgrounds were chosen.

MSC Defeats MU, 16-11, On Mats

The Northwest State College wrestlers brought their record to 8-0 Friday night by defeating the University of Missouri, 16-11, a second time.

There were no pins in the closely contested match. MSC Coach Jerry Landwer stated that the "squad was over-confident" and that they "did not do a good job."

The Bearcats handed MU its first loss of the season last week 27-2 at Maryville.

Lonnie Wieland, in the 157-pound class, and Allen Packer, 167-pound class, won easily and looked the best for Maryville. What was expected to be the best match of the meet was forfeited by the University as Bob Benedetti was injured. Harvey Hallum handed Benedetti his first loss in two years last week.

In the 147-pound class, Rick Adams, who is blind, got a take down on Arnold Thompson in the last 10 seconds to win after trailing 3-2 Maryville was ahead in every match but one entering the third period.

MSC has a match with Warrensburg Friday. Coach Landwer stated that Warrensburg is the best team in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. that the Bearcats will have to face.

The team's match with Graceland College, which had been scheduled for Thursday, has been changed to Mar. 3.

The results:

130-pound: Jerry Mason, NW, over Ken Fanning, MU, 2-0.

137-pound: Boyd Brown, MU, over Larry Kilmer, NW, 8-6.

147-pound: Rick Adams, MU, over Arnold Thompson, NW, 4-3.

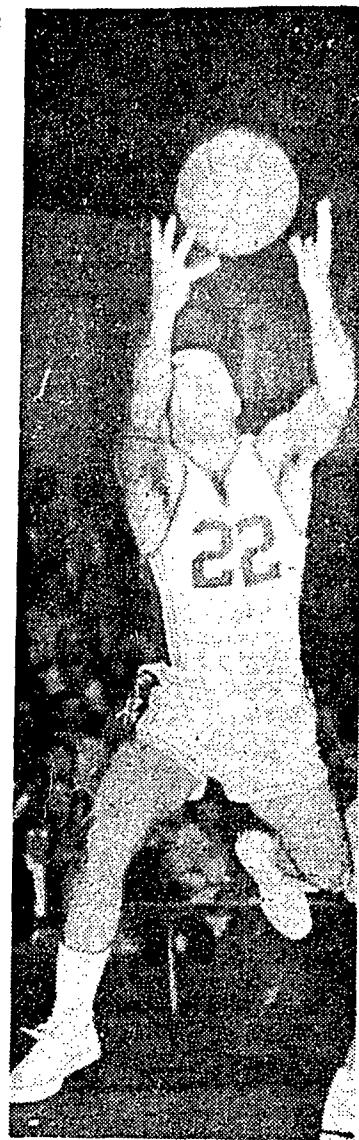

157-pound: Lonnie Wieland,

NW, over Steve Eldridge, MU, 9-3.

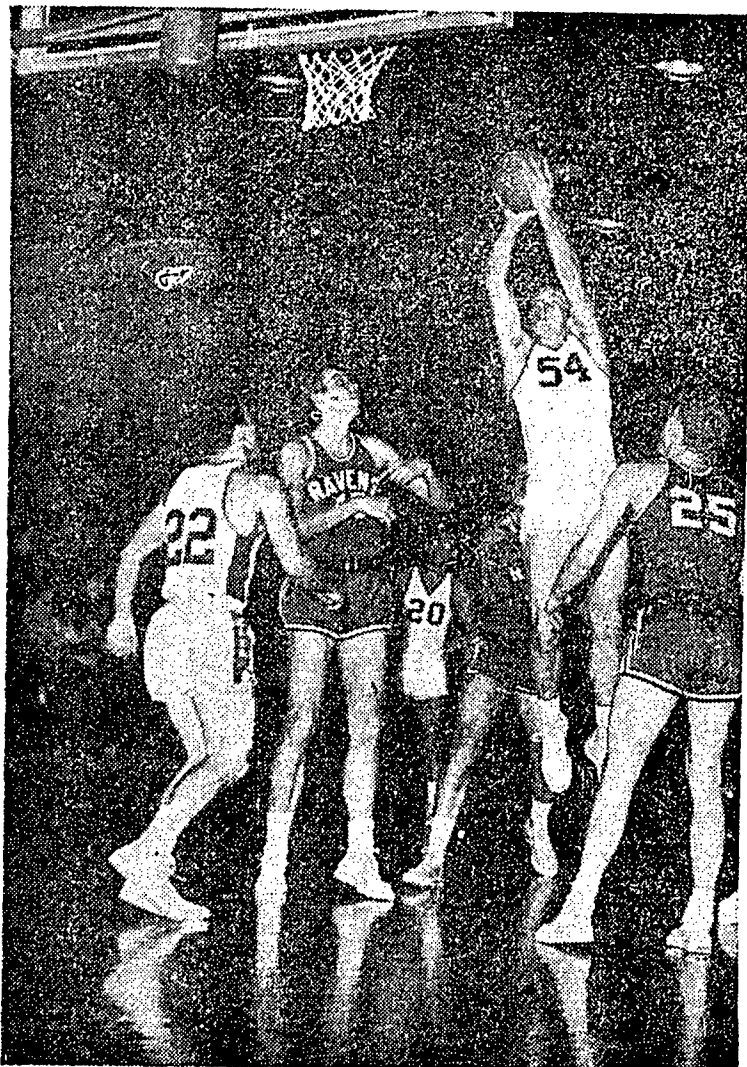

167-pound: Allen Packer, NW, over Gary Rhoades, MU, 11-6.

177-pound: Jim Simpson, MU, over Dave Stearns, NW, 6-0.

Heavyweight: Jim Perez, NW, drew with Pete Salerno, MU, 2-2.

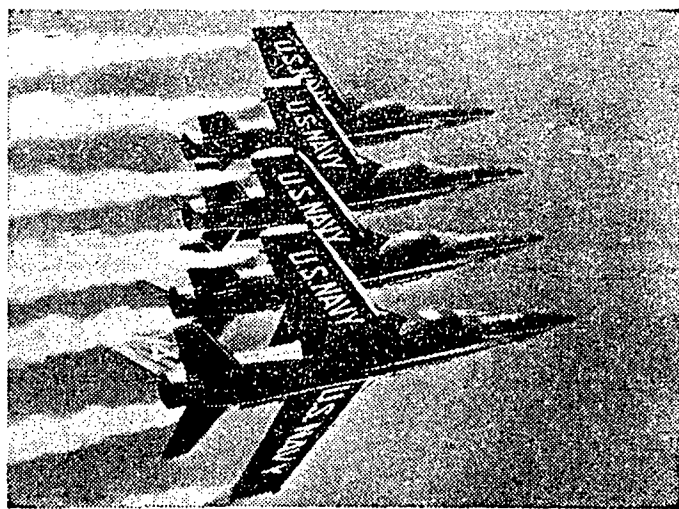

Bob Crawford uses the lay-up to good advantage against Cape Girardeau as he scores for the 'Cats.

IT'S TWO FOR THE BEARCATS as Dave Remund, 6-6 center, connects on a short jump-shot against St. Benedict's. Bob Crawford, 22, moves to block out the Raven's Pat Hare.
